Easy to buy in 3 steps

Our philosophy with Next Gen Minigolf is that our price includes everything, all the way to a turnkey facility. It should also be easy to buy and a profitable investment.

Step 1: Contact us directly or request information on our website.

Step 2: In the next step, we will send you a checklist of questions for you to fill in. Based on the information you provide, we create customised drawings with a presentation of your Adventure Golf facility.

If you have any comments on our initial proposal we will make changes to the drawings and the presentation based on your feedback until you are satisfied.

Step 3: If all parties finally agree to proceed, we will send you a draft agreement for you to read and sign.

The customer is responsible for the following

- Building permits and any authorisations if necessary
- Construction fencing if necessary
- Electricity and water supply
- Accommodation & access to staff rooms
- Rubbish, waste containers and disposal of any leftover natural materials
- Storage areas for materials and tools

A Next Gen facility can of course be designed according to the desired size. All according to the customer's available space. We then put together a design proposal with a price adapted to the those conditions.

The road to success

We offer a high quality adventure golf facility that gives you excellent conditions for a very successful business.

What we have brought with us in our long experience in the industry is that success also comes with a combination of different elements in your offer to the end customer.

Factors that can make the extra difference are location, pricing, marketing and offering added value such as the possibility to buy food, drinks and delicious ice creams!

Experience over time

With roots going back 85 years

City Golf Europe has its roots stretching all the way back to 1938. It was then that Harald Sjölund built - inspired by American models - the first miniature golf course on the terrace outside Stora Hotellet in Örnsköldsvik.

The municipality of Örnsköldsvik has a population of around 55,000 people and is located in northern Sweden. Today, City Golf Europe is still headquartered in the city and delivers Mini Golf and Adventure Golf from there to the whole world.

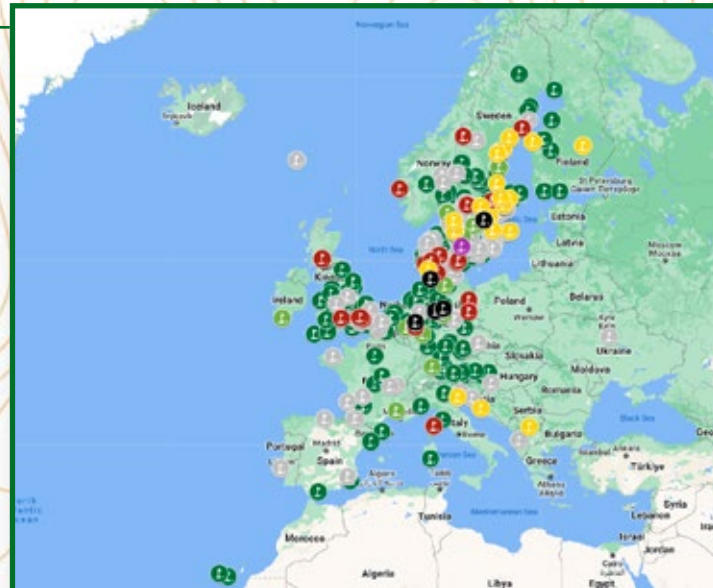

Experience from projects

Over 400 completed projects

Over the years, City Golf Europe has delivered more than 2,500 miniature golf courses and over 400 adventure golf facilities across Europe. This would not be possible without satisfied customers.

Our guiding principle and green thread is to contribute with attractive products and services to contribute to customers' profitability and end users' success and experiences. High quality, long service life and low maintenance costs are words of honour for us.
